DAY 3 (Feb 6th)

Breakfast at the cottage. At 9:00 transfer to Araucana Lodg another cottage nestled in a bamboo and palm grove on a 'finca' in the Western Andes of Colombia at 1600 meters above sea level. Accomodation.

In the morning we'll visit the km 18, a cool area at 1800 meters of altitude, only 30 minutes from the Lodge. Birding can be very productive there, and you can see species including the Multicolored Tanager, Blue-headed Sapphire, Golden and/or crested Quetzals, Trogons and lately the Blue-winged Mountain Tanagers plus many other tanagers and hummingbirds. We will have a delicious traditional lunch at a local restaurant.

In the afternoon you can explore the Dolmetsch Arboretum with the director, Álvaro Calonje. The Dolmetsch Arboretum is home for more than 2,200 plants from around the world, and is known worldwide for its collection of cycads, which contains more than 60 species. This place provides an incredible diversity of plants and gorgeous gardens.

We head back to the lodg.
